You can delete your own posts.

NOTE: If you are an Administrator, you can delete any post.

Exam Discussion Icons (1)

The icons represent the following functions:

- View all posts for an individual Student with the option to grade the posts.
 - In Graded Discussion this is where scores and comments can be added and pushed to the Gradebook.
- Manage the Discussion Group.
- Edit the Discussion settings.
- Collapse all Discussion thread.
- Expand all Discussion threads.
- Discussion help.
- Refresh screen to show most current posts.
- Close the screen

Create New Topic (2)

This is the Discussion User Interface.

- ⚠ Until you create a Topic nobody will be notified that there is a new Discussion. If you want others to participate in your Discussion, you need to create a Topic after the initial set up of the Discussion. (This is only applicable for Discussions that are NOT Public because Notifications are only sent out for Discussions that are NOT Public.)

New Post/Reply

You can add new topic and/or reply to an existing post.

Activity Bell Notifications

Once a new post has been made Users who are participating in the Discussion Board will receive an alert in their Activity Bell.
